BIG DEMOCRATIC RALLY TOMORROW NIGHT

The initial drive in the local end of the democratic campaign for the election of state officials Tuesday, Nov. 6, will be made tomorrow evening in Association hall, when Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield, democratic candidate for governor, will be the principal speaker at a rousing rally of the "democrats" of Lowell.

It will be Mr. Mansfield's first public appearance in Lowell since last July, when he was a speaker at the Sacred Heart church in Moore street. Mr. Mansfield will have with him as other speakers Hon. Matthew Hale, candidate for lieutenant governor; Arthur B. Reed, candidate for state secretary; Humphrey O'Sullivan, candidate for treasurer; Josiah Quincy, candidate for attorney general; Elzear Choquette, candidate for auditor, and Hon. Peter Collins of Boston.

The rally is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock and from all appearances will be the biggest one of this year's state election campaign in Lowell.

VERDICT OF $26 RENDERED IN CASE OF DEMERS VS. TESSIER

The case of Emma Demers vs. Angus Tessier, executor for the estate of Eugene Ducharme, an action of contract by which the plaintiff sought to recover for services rendered to the deceased during his illness, which went to trial at the civil session of the superior court Friday afternoon, was given to the jury this morning at the opening of the session and shortly afterward a verdict of $26, the full amount asked, was rendered.

Later the case of Burroughs and Parsons vs. the Boston & Maine, which was on trial the greater portion of last week, was given to the jury after arguments had been presented by counsel and the charge delivered by Presiding Justice King.

DEATHS

She was a member of the Third Order of St. Francis, St. Anne's sodality and St. Joseph's sewing circle.

MITCHELL—Guy Edward Mitchell, 48 years old, who died in Springfield on Thursday, had been for the last three years manager of the municipal lighting plant. He had been ill the last two weeks with pneumonia.

A native of Lowell, Mr. Mitchell was born March 11, 1869. He was the son of George Edward and Elmina (Currier) Mitchell. After attending the schools of his native city he went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and was graduated as a mechanical engineer in 1891. He had a long and varied experience as a draftsman and in construction and electrical work.

At the time Mr. Mitchell took charge of the Springfield municipal lighting plant, almost three years ago, it was in a badly run down condition. He worked hard to get it back on its feet and has just resigned his position where the department was safely ensconced on a firm financial basis and the improvement work needed to put it in shape well started.

Mr. Mitchell was a member of Alpheus Shrine of Boston. He was also a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Besides his wife, who was Miss Gertrude Warren, he leaves two daughters, Rosemond, six years old, and Corinne, aged three.

HOLLAND CAN'T ENTER WAR FOR GERMANY

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The other day when Secretary of State Lansing had his regular conference with the newspaper men, almost every question asked him had to do with the Dutch ships in our harbors, and whether any action so far taken or contemplated was likely to lead to a declaration of war by Holland.

The answer in each case was an emphatic "No."

The United States, in refusing to permit the Dutch ships to have some of our precious coal and in refusing to license those ships to carry our precious grain to Dutch ports, is acting strictly within its rights.

But this war talk at the present stage of the game is all bunk anyhow. Hard pressed as little Holland is by Germany, which is growing the war, she is in even worse case when it comes to antagonizing the allies.

Hudson river and inner New York bay are filled with Dutch ships. There are a lot of others in the ports of England, Australia, Japan, New Zealand and China. Holland got into the war on Germany's side, she would almost at once lose the bulk of her commercial fleet and all of her colonies.

Dutch Guiana, in South America and the Dutch West Indies would probably fall to our lot. The vast coasts of the East Indies would be quickly taken over by England and Japan.

And Holland itself would be subject to speedy attack. Her great commercial cities are Rotterdam on one of the mouths of the Rhine, and Amsterdam.

LIBERTY LOAN APPEAL IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES

An appeal to the parishioners to subscribe to the Liberty loan was made by preachers at all the masses of the Catholic churches in this city yesterday. The speakers urged their listeners to do their share in helping the government to finance the present war.

At the 7:30 o'clock mass at the Immaculate Conception church yesterday morning the members of the Third Order of St. Francis and the Junior branch of the Children of Mary society received communion in a body. Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I., the pastor, was the celebrant, and he was assisted in giving out communion by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I. It was announced that the annual parish reunion would be held Wednesday of this week in Associate hall. Next Sunday evening a procession in honor of St. Veronica will be held in connection with the vesper services.

Rev. Francis J. Molloy celebrated the high mass at St. Michael's church yesterday morning and Rev. J. J. Lynch was the preacher. It was announced that the annual collection for the parochial school, which was taken up the preceding Sunday, had met with gratifying response.

The members of the Boys' sodality received communion at the 8:30 o'clock mass at St. Peter's church yesterday morning. Rev. Peter Linehan was the celebrant, and he was assisted in giving communion by the pastor, Rev. Daniel J. Keohner, Ph.D. The Married Ladies' sodality received at the 7:30 o'clock mass. Rev. Daniel J. Keohner celebrated the high mass at 11 o'clock and Rev. Francis J. Molloy was the preacher. The latter urged a large attendance of the parishioners at the meeting to be held in Associate hall next Sunday evening under the auspices of the Catholic federation.

At the 7 o'clock mass at St. Patrick's church yesterday morning members of the Holy Family sodality received communion in a body. Rt. Rev. William

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN HAVE WORMS

Their parents do not know it

Symptoms of worms in children are: Drugged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face, leaden and dull, twitching eyes, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. Growth fails as subject to worms also.

The one best remedy is Dr. Tru's Plaster. Good for adults also. Mrs. Curtis, of Houston, Texas, believes this and writes that she will be glad to tell her friends of the benefits she has received. Get a bottle today at your dealer's. 10c, 50c and $1.00. Write for further information.

mother found a letter in the bureau of the room in which the young man said he was not going to be married and that they would never see him again. The young man has not been seen since. He believed that he would be in time for the wedding his parents did not utter a word concerning his absence until yesterday afternoon when Miss Briere was apprised of the sad circumstances surrounding her proposed marriage.

MASSACHUSETTS AUTO LAWS

Special to The Sun.

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Oct. 22.—That Massachusetts' automobile laws are more and more being looked upon as the standard for excellence is shown by the fact that New York officials have recently been in conference with Chairman Sohler of the Massachusetts highway commission, in order to obtain suggestions for embodied in a report to the New York legislature, urging that the laws of that state be brought up to the Massachusetts standard.

In New York, no operating license is required except in the case of persons operating for hire; any man who can beg, borrow or steal a car may operate as long as he likes, provided he takes no money for it. In this state it is illegal to operate a car unless one of the occupants is a licensed person, and even the right to operate without a license, if accompanied by a licensed person, may be taken away by the highway commission.

Members of the highway commission feel strongly that this power to take away the privilege of operating is one of the most valuable features of the Massachusetts law, because it has been found that many operators who care nothing for the fine usually imposed after conviction on a charge of operating in a reckless manner, hesitate to incur the suspension of license which is usually the result of such convictions.

Just how little control the state of New York has over her automobile operators is shown by the fact that not only are the professional drivers the only ones who are licensed, but the secretary of state has discretionary powers as to whether a chauffeur's license shall be taken away in any given case. A man convicted of manslaughter in a fatal automobile accident may appeal to the secretary of state, and if that official sees fit to permit it, the operator responsible for the death may retain his license.

In no case may the secretary of state take away a license without the recommendation of court justice; in Massachusetts, the highway commission upon its own initiative may suspend or revoke any license, and in case of court conviction for any of the more serious offenses, such as operating while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, operating in a reckless manner, or going away without stopping after causing an accident, the license must be revoked, no discretion being left to the commission, unless the judge before whom the conviction is made recommends to the commission that the license should not be revoked.

There is no provision in the New York law for revoking the registration of an automobile, and although a car may be known to be uncontrollable, it may be operated on the New York highways. In Massachusetts only recently the highway commissioners

NOTICE TO SICK WOMEN

Positive Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves Suffering.

Bridgeport, N.J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for inflammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terrible pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miserable that I could not sweep a room. I doctored part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt a change for the better. I took it until I was in good healthy condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedies to all women as I have used them with such good results."—Mrs. M. FORD T. CUMMINGS, 322 Harmony St., Penn's Grove, N. J.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence of the excellence of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the distressing ills of women such as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, backache, painful periods, nervousness and kindred ailments.

EDGAR B. BRUNELLE DID NOT PUT IN APPEARANCE FOR WEDDING CEREMONY

The wedding of Edgar B. Brunelle, of 517 Pawtucket street, and Miss Anne B. Briere, of 778 Sterlinausk street, which was scheduled to take place at St. Joseph's rectory yesterday afternoon and for which all arrangements had been made, was postponed on account of the sudden and unexpected disappearance of the bridegroom-to-be.

The couple declared their intention of changing at the city clerk's office a couple of weeks ago. Five days later Mr. Brunelle called for his marriage license and his address will be in the form of suggestions and requests for united action in food administration. Incidentally the Liberty loan campaign will be discussed, while other matters of importance will be discussed. The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock.

WOODEN GUNS FOR SOLDIERS

If someone were to suggest that our soldiers be sent to Europe with wooden guns, he would be dealt with as a madman. But there is another thing that would be equivalent to sending them out with wooden guns, and that would be to send them to the front without sufficient or proper food. For a gun, and ammunition with which to feed that gun, are not enough for your soldier. He must have food, too. And he must have as perfect food as his gun, and enough of it, if he is to be as efficient as his gun is expected to be.

But that is not the whole of the situation. There are some of our people who, while seeing the necessity of feeding our own men at the front, don't quite see why we should take over the task of feeding our allies. Yet that is simple enough—just consider this illustration and see: We are metaphorically, a hundred people in a house with a hundred doors, being attacked by a hundred bandits. If twenty of us or fifty of us or eighty of us are strong enough to do our job of guarding our particular door, all the bandits can still get in the other doors. If the allies men are not as strong, not as well fed as our men, then nothing that our men can do will save the day. So, unless we feed all, we are wasting the food we send our men—yes, and wasting our men too, their bravery, their toll their sacrifice, their lives.

LEMON JUICE A BEAUTIFIER

How to prepare a beauty cream at little cost. Says lemon juice alone is too highly acid. Try this on face, neck, arms and hands!

Many women use just the juice of lemons to bleach or whiten the skin and to bring out the hidden beauty of the roses, but pure lemon juice is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy or toilet counter and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to bring back to any skin the whiteness, the sweet freshness and flexibility of which it has been robbed by carelessness or trying atmospheric conditions.

MISREPRESENTING LOWELL

Ground has been broken for a $50,000 club house on the shores of Robbins pond, just outside of Camp Davens. This is one of two club houses planned to be built without delay. It is a good undertaking of course, but in urging support of these projects we regret to note a tendency to represent the neighboring cities as reeking with drunkenness and vice.

In literature sent out from the camp a military official is quoted as saying that "if recreation is not provided near the cantonment the men will drift as they are now drifting into nearby cities where vice and liquor abound."

On the face of it that seems a very reasonable statement, but as most of the soldiers come to Lowell and as certain newspapers have seriously misrepresented conditions here, such statements are taken to refer to Lowell more than to any other city. In this way the reputation of our city for the absence of vice and for strict enforcement of the liquor law is being practically ruined.

Yet there has been no evidence to support any such charges so far as Lowell is concerned; but still the sensation mongers continue to spread the untruthful reports. We are strongly in favor of the recreation clubs at the cantonment, but we cannot approve the policy of urging contributions to the community fund by representing conditions in neighboring cities, which refers mainly to Lowell, as very bad or very dangerous, when in reality no city in the country is more free from vice and in no other city in the state are the liquor laws so rigidly enforced.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT A BOND?

Every young American who has volunteered, or has been chosen for the national army, is making a sacrifice for the sacred cause of democracy and country. He is giving some of the best years of his life, his job, his profession, his business, so liberty may not perish from the face of the earth.

Now—the question for us who remain at home to put to ourselves is: can we make any sacrifice at all comparable? Of course, we cannot. Even if we do not have as much coal as usual, even if we pay more taxes—all these things are as nothing to what the soldier boy is giving.

On his behalf, so that the war may be quickly won, the government is asking all of us to buy Liberty bonds. If we merely invest of our surplus in these splendid securities we cannot lay any patriotic unction to our souls. The point is, how many of us are going to buy so heavily that we will have to economize and pinch until it hurts? Only when we have done this, can we say that we have supported the government loan like good patriotic Americans.

That is about the only kind of sacrifice most of us will be called upon to make and even that does not deserve the term "sacrifice," because we are really only enriching ourselves. We have thus more than we might otherwise have done and we escape the Prussian indemnity gatherer.

THE MUNICIPAL MILKMAN

New York and Chicago are threatened with milk famines, milk investigations and milk prosecutions. All so, they are paying more—much more—for their milk than they ever paid before.

In New York the consumer is held up for from 14 to 16 cents a quart. The milk distributors laid the blame on the producers. The president of the dairymen's league replied: "The average price paid dairy farmers for milk is 6 1/2 cents a quart, and dairy farmers are paying double the amount for feed they paid two or three years ago."

He had the books to prove his assertion.

Clearly the distributing system is at fault. The city milkman is making too big a profit, or he is doing his work in an inefficient manner. Probably the latter more than the former is true, excepting with the very large distributing concerns. A dozen different milkmen drive their wagons along the street early in the morning, passing and repassing over each others' footprints, duplicating trips in and out of yards, wasting time, energy and money. There are two solutions: Monopoly properly controlled or else municipal milk distribution which would be a difficult job for any city. Under the present system, many young children will suffer for lack of proper nourishment.

THE LOSS OF THE TRANSPORT

The loss of the U. S. transport "Antilles" on her homeward trip from France shows that in spite of the most vigilant convoy of war vessels the big transports are liable to be struck by the submarines occasionally. In the present case, it appears that the torpedo was so stealthily launched that there was no possible defense.

The fact that the steamer has a big smoke stack of the old fashioned type that sends out volumes of black smoke may have notified the submarines of her approach—so that one or perhaps several submarines were lined up in her path. Many steamers that have been sent to the bottom in all probability could have escaped but for the betrayal of their approach by the clouds of smoke from their funnels. When will the United States overcome this handicap?

In view of the suddenness with which the vessel was sunk, it would appear that the submarine must have been very close to the vessel when the torpedo was fired. That the loss of life was not greater shows that safety appliances were at hand.

CAN'T REMOVE CROSSINGS

Before the supreme court the other day, counsel for the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad declared that the company is physically and financially unable to eliminate grade crossings. The statement was made in arguing against a petition by the city of Taunton. Its truth can be readily realized inasmuch as it is almost impossible at the present time to get men to do such work and when they are secured, the rate of wages they demand is staggering. The railroads are similarly handicapped in securing new cars and the trolley companies suffer also from the lack of cars to improve their service. The company running cars from North Chelmsford to Ayer has tried to get new cars to meet the increased travel, but has found it impossible. The car manufacturers are otherwise employed, many of them helping the government in getting out war machines.

SWEATERS ARE NEEDED

The Lowell boys at the Ayer camp have had reason to complain for lack of sweaters. While the boys from Haverhill, Lawrence and other cities received consignments of sweaters from their respective cities, those from Lowell were not so remembered. We do not know whether the Red Cross workers in the neighboring cities supplied any of these sweaters, but the belief is that they did. The lack of proper clothing combined with the absence of heat in their quarters has resulted in many of the boys contracting bad colds. These drawbacks are being remedied just as fast as the resources of the government and the cantonment contractors can do so, and the prospect is that they will be overcome in the near future.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Cleanses the Little Liver and Bowels and They Get Well Quick

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is full of stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish, has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups. It is on the bottles. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

SEEN AND HEARD

Some people are always ready to admit that they are right.

When a man can't foot his bills, he ought not to foot the bill collector.

Any man or woman who falls in love at first sight will do well to take a second look.

When a man boasts that he is self-made, it is fair to assume that he regards himself as a success.

Sometimes a man's business would be better if he should be confined to the house with a long illness and his wife should take hold and run it.

If a woman could change her dress as quickly as she can change her mind, there wouldn't be so many husbands.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute orcinol—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

No Peanuts For the Enemy

There is a vendor of peanuts in Plymouth county who can rightfully claim to being up-to-date and who needs no advice from Mr. Hoover in doing his bit while the scenery is being mused by along the western battle front.

His latest expression of patriotism consists of placing a printed slip in each bag of peanuts reading as follows:

"We understand and agreed that these peanuts are sold with the understanding that they are not to be exported except to Great Britain, a British possession, France or Russia; or to a European country by way of the United Kingdom, or to a non-European country."

He's very serious about it. "None of my stuff will reach the Kaiser or his trenches not if I know it," he says. "I can't fight but I can set folks right about giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

It May Be Cheaper Some Day

The man at the grocery store told her sadly that two pounds of sugar was the limit; she couldn't buy more that night.

"But how can I make grape conserve with two pounds of sugar?" she demanded.

"Lady, ask the guy blather up," he answered. "Corner groceries cut no cheese with Hoover or the sugar trust."

The little mother took it, but instead of sending out details of one to buy more sugar in two days, she told her troubles to Mrs. B. Fortunately the latter had an ample store of sugar, having put in 10 pounds when no restrictions were imposed.

"I'll loan you five pounds," she suggested.

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Dandergine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a small bottle of Dandergine at any drug store for a few cents and save your hair. After several applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

"Pape's Diapopsin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes

Time to Pape's Diapopsin will sweeten a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is usually a sign of acidity of the stomach.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapopsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, dizziness, headaches or drowsiness. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapopsin helps to neutralize the excessive acid in the stomach, which is causing the food fermentation and preventing proper digestion.

Relief in five minutes is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough Pape's Diapopsin to usually keep the entire family free from stomach acidity and its symptoms of indigestion, dyspepsia, sourness, gases, heartburn and headache, for many months. It belongs in your home.

gested.

"You're on," agreed the little mother, in substance.

That was some days ago. Commenting on the quality of the conserve recently, the little mother's husband chanced to recall the incident and wondered if the loan had been repaid.

"Of course not," was the sweet reply. "Sugar is 'way up now and I'm not going to buy that five pounds until I can get it for about seven cents a pound."

Which explains why men insist on 6 per cent.

The High Cost of Eating

"The din is still at work," he remarked as he tackled the boiled dinner, "I remember the customer."

"What's the idea?" asked the lunchman as he leaned back against the icebox.

"What are you getting for ham sandwiches now?"

"Why, five cents. What did you think?"

"Well, you're in the minority then. There's places in town where they are getting 10 cents now."

"Pretty fat."

"Sure it is, when you think of the knifeblade thickness of the ham and the several hundreds of sandwiches that one hovey ham will make, to say nothing of the small slice and the thin bread cuts that are the fashion nowadays. They'll be charging 10 cents for coffee yet and taking off eight cents profit on a cup. Why don't you go up?"

"Well, you don't see my custom changing much, do you?"

"No."

"They know I don't jump prices until there's a reason, that's all."

In October

It's hard to start a fire in the bin. When there's no coal in the bin. It's hard to keep old shivers Jack Frost from comin' in.

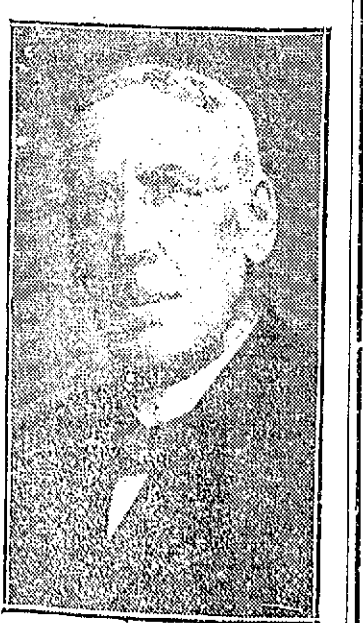

It's hard to warm the sittin' room. Or bake a loaf of bread. When you haven't got a fire. An' you have to stay shed.

But old John D's a genius. An' he's helped us all out some. We don't need to start the furnace. Though we see that winter's come. Though the coal bin may be empty. There's a way to be serene; Git out the old oil heater. And buy some kerosene!

for 20 years and then came to this city. His first employment here was with G. and D. Bradt, bakers, and then he had a brief experience in the milk business. In 1871 he became one of the organizers of the Thordike Mfg. Co. of this city. This firm made elastic webs and suspenders. He was manager of this industry until 1897 when he retired from active business life.

Mr. Russell was also prominently associated with other business and financial houses of Lowell. He was vice president and trustee of the Five Cent Savings bank for a number of years. He was also a trustee of the Lowell Cemetery association, a director of the Lawrence Hosiery Co. and a director of the Erie Telephone Co. For almost 60 years he was a member of the Pentecostal church of Lowell.

In church life the adjective "prominent" certainly fits the career of Mr. Russell. He first became associated with the Paige Street Free Baptist church and for many years he served untrillingly in the work of this church. Later he attended the Eliot Congregational church and became identified with the work of the Lowell Congregational club. He was for some time president of the latter organization. He was president of the Y.M.C.A. from 1876 to 1879 and was a member of the association for half a century. Last January he gave $15,000 to the institution in memory of his wife.

Not only in Lowell but in other parts of New England Mr. Russell has given quietly to struggling churches and charitable institutions.

Mr. Russell was married May 28, 1866, to Mary Emma Parker, daughter of Joseph Parker of Lisbon, N. H. They lived to celebrate their golden wedding in 1916. Mrs. Russell died soon after, however, June 24, 1916.

Mr. Russell is survived by two sons, Clinton P. and Lester A., who live in Dallas, Tex., and who arrived in Lowell before his death; two daughters, Miss Edith E. Russell, who had been his companion at home, and Isabelle

ST. JOSEPH'S PARISH
ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE

Ideal weather, a street parade, a large attendance, impressive services at St. Joseph's church and St. Joseph's cemetery, and a forceful sermon delivered by Rev. Louis Buchard, O.M.I., at the grave of Rev. A. M. Garin, O.M.I., marked the annual pilgrimage of parishioners of St. Joseph's parish under the auspices of the C.M.A.C. yesterday. It is estimated that between 8000 and 10,000 men, women and children took part in the devotion exercises for the dead, which were held on the highest knoll in the cemetery.

The members of the C.M.A.C. and local semi-military organizations gathered at the rooms of the organization in Pawtucket street in the early afternoon and formed in line. Headed by the Lowell Cadet band the line moved through Merrimack, Kirk and Leo streets and into St. Joseph's church. Ildore Trudel, a former president of the society acted as chief marshal and under his direction the formation of the parade and the march were made without the slightest obstruction.

At St. Joseph's church, which was filled to the doors, a Libera was chanted for the repose of the souls of the deceased members of the society by the chaplain and pastor, Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I. Special hymns being sung by the church choir under the direction of Telephore Malo, Miss Lena B. Camire presiding at the organ. At the close of the service special visits to the cemetery for the purpose of praying for their departed relatives and friends.

A Libera was chanted and the multitude went to the grave of the late M. J. Cossette, first captain of Garde d'Honneur which became affiliated with the C.M.A.C., where prayers were sounded and a volley fired. The committee in charge consisted of I. Trudel, chairman; Hector McDonald, secretary; Raoul Pelletier, George Simard, Joseph Tremblay and President J. A. Fortier, ex-officio.

LOWELL PEOPLE KILLED

sufficient force to cause instant death. He received a large gash in his forehead which extended around the side of the head.

Miss Fletcher was also hurled to the ground and she lived but a short time. Donald escaped injury, but how he was so fortunate is not known, even by himself, for after being hurled through space he knew nothing more until he was picked up.

When the engine crashed into the automobile the gasoline tank in the latter exploded and immediately the machine was a mass of flames and soon nothing but the wreckage of the auto was left.

Theodore Fletcher was the son of Edwin J. and Edith H. Fletcher of 125 Lowell high school, where he was well known in football circles. He played Saturday football for the past four years, he had been a consistent and faithful worker on the gridiron squad and his work this year was enough to merit his receipt of the coveted letter. Carrie Fletcher was the sister of Mr. Fletcher and is also well known in the city.

Automobile Burned
The machine was struck full on the side by the locomotive and was thrown 125 feet down the tracks, landing upright on the outboard rails, with Donald Fletcher still sitting in the wheel, apparently uninjured. A moment later and it burst into flames and was quickly consumed. Donald Fletcher again making his escape unhurt.

Miss Fletcher's body was close by where the car landed, but the body of her nephew was farther away. There were no marks on his body. Chief of Police Beatty of Ayer, Thomas J. Mullin, a court officer there, and Judge Mahoney of Ayer rushed in an automobile to the scene of the accident and had the bodies of the victims removed to an undertaking establishment there.

Donald Fletcher was taken by Joe Males of Lowell, who "Pet Keegan, the former bicycle rider, in the latter's automobile to his home in Lowell. It was learned that yesterday morning the Fletcher party brought back to Ayer Miss Marion Farnsworth, daughter of C. L. Farnsworth of Washington street, Ayer, who had been visiting them.

Later last night Mr. Fletcher went to Ayer to claim the bodies. With him was Dr. C. B. Simpson of the state board of health.

Did Not See Train
Donald Fletcher said that he did not see the train and knew nothing was wrong until he heard his brother cry out. He remembers nothing more until he came to sitting upright in the car as the flames burst from it.

The crossing where the accident took place was used by thousands of autoists yesterday who were in Camp Devens. The road crosses the tracks at a little less than a right angle, and there is apparently nothing to obstruct the view of the tracks from the road.

There have been a number of accidents at this crossing, and for some time the plan for having something to make conditions safer has been agreed.

Miss Fletcher Orphan
Miss Carrie Fletcher, who was killed, was 30 years old and an orphan. She made her home with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Howells at 261 North street. She was the aunt of Theodore Fletcher, the other victim of the accident. He was 16 years old and the son of E. L. Fletcher of 11 Holyrood avenue.

Donald E. Fletcher, the driver of the car, is also a son of E. L. Fletcher and a nephew of the dead woman.

JOSHUA DAVIS KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE
Joshua F. Davis, residing in the Tyngsboro road near Tyngs Island, was struck by an automobile owned and operated by Francis X. Henry of Concord, N. H., almost directly in front of his home about 8:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon and sustained injuries which resulted in his death at the Lowell Corporation hospital about two hours later.

Mr. Davis had accompanied his son from his home to an old E. L. Fletcher car which was traveling northward struck and knocked him down. Mr. Henry placed Mr. Davis in his automobile and rushed to the home of Dr. F. E. Varney in North Chelmsford and removed him to the Lowell Corporation hospital, but all efforts to save the man's life proved fruitless, and he died at 8:30 o'clock.

The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker George W. Healey. Mr. Davis was a well known man in North Chelmsford, where he had resided for some time. He was a Civil war veteran and was 55 years of age, a member of Post No. 1, G.A.R., and moved to South America some years ago, where he was commander of Abraham Lincoln post, G. A. R., of Lima, Peru.

He leaves a wife, Mrs. Ellen M. Davis; four daughters, Miss H. Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. Dorothy M. Davis, Mrs. Farnsworth and Mrs. A. K. Herbert, and two sons, Henry E. and Charles J. Davis.

SEVEN MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT
Seven Haverhill men were injured last night when the automobile in which they were riding struck a street car rail on the road between Lawrence and Lowell and turned turtle. Two of them, Sam Goltz and Louis Buchanan, were taken to St. John's hospital. Holtz suffering from a fracture of the right arm and Buchanan with minor bruises.

Three taken to the General hospital in Lawrence were Samuel Seidberg of 4 Freeman street, Haverhill; Max Vincour of 50 Ayer street, Haverhill; Morris Sacorah of 8 Observatory avenue, Haverhill; Samuel Trainor of 28 Ayer street, Haverhill and Samuel Sussman of 131 Washington street, Haverhill. Seidberg had a fracture of the right arm, Vincour had a broken rib, and the other three were bruised and shaken.

Victor Burroughs, the owner and operator of the car which turned over, lives at 43 Wilson street, Haverhill.

HIT BY ELECTRIC CAR
Victor Fratus and Joseph Rosa were removed to St. John's hospital at 9:30 o'clock last night after the motorcycle and sidecar in which they were riding was struck by an electric car in Dutton street. Rosa received a fracture of the right leg and sustained lacerations of the left leg.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

"The German Retreat at Arras," the first episode of which will be shown at the B. F. Keith Theatre this week, is undoubtedly the best series of battle pictures ever shown to the American public. The pictures will open the week's bill, and in the evening it is desired that all who wish to see them be present at 7 o'clock, for because of the length of the bill, they will be put on a half hour earlier than usual. The picture, which was taken by the British war office, and the proceeds, of which will go to the assistance of the Red Cross, leaves no doubt about the retreat of the Germans. The British artillery is seen moving forward over the smashed German trenches, despite the tremendous fire which is poured upon them, and the infantry advances without cover in artillery formation, and the cavalry at a brisk trot pursues the retreating enemy, picking its way among the shell holes. The tanks, of course, are much in evidence, and up and down the line and dive among the straggling puffs.

The American trickster is supreme among all of the magicians in the world, and the Great Leon will demonstrate this week. In his act he is the greatest of fakirs, and in London the wizards of St. George's hall stood open-mouthed in amazement at his feat. His exhibition is stupendous and it is along comedy lines. He has woven his tricks into a comedy pantomime. His accomplishments are all original and he defies even the expert to reproduce them.

And now comes Walter Weems, black face humorist, who depicts the negro as he is, and not as burlesque performers say he is. Weems is a Virginian by birth, and many hours of his youth were spent in and around the colored quarters of Norfolk. He knows all of the exuberance of the negro, but it is soft-voiced and pleasing. As a dancer he is unique. And to add to the list of things he does, it may be said that he plays the euphonium very well.

The Gallarini Sisters are very attractive musicians. Violins, cornets and accordions are used by them, and the twin sing delightfully. In appearance it may be said that they are nothing short of being real beauties. A singing act of more than attractiveness is "Somebody's Boy," a comedy in three acts, representing the life of a young man who is a soldier of the allies will give the songs that are now current in France. Harry and Grace Ellsworth will sing, dance and play comedy, and Sealo, the seal who works alone and unaided by any trainer, will add to the bill.

The picture feature will be the Goldwyn drama, "The Spreading Dawn," from the novel of the same name by Basil King, and with Miss Jane Cowl in the leading role. The Hearst-Pathe pictures will also be shown.

OPERA HOUSE
"The Man Who Stayed at Home," the great war story unfolding the intricacies and cunning of the country's secret service—the same play that is now enjoying a successful six months' run at the Copley theatre, Boston—will be the attraction for the week by the newly organized Emerson Players at the Opera House. The fact that $1.50 prices prevail at Boston, and the production, which was originally scheduled to appear for one week, is still playing to capacity audiences, all performances, should be sufficient assurance to all lovers of good drama that the local production will be worth while. The story on which the author of the play bases his action and situations, concerns a young man who has every appearance of a genuine "black-race" type. He is a young man who cannot make known his true self and is obliged to suffer from the ill-effects of his friends and relatives and appear to disavow him in the eyes of all. His life is put to a severe test, but the real truth is made known he comes out a bigger hero than ever. The method employed by the author in unravelling the knotted problems that arise from time to time, and the happy and enjoyable features that inject themselves in the telling of the story are all wonderfully well done and can't help making a strong appeal to those who are partial to this brand of stage story. Roy Walling and Miss McCallion are again sure to find favor with the patrons in their roles. One of the features of the play will be the use of a fully equipped wireless machine, operated in the view of the audience. The machine is the manufacture of Francis Ryan, a Lowell boy, whose perfection of the details have been worked out by him to a point that reflects his really wonderful ability along such lines.

THE STRAND
One of the principal attractions at The Strand for the week is the appearance of "Chiquita," the smallest and most perfectly formed "little lady" in the world. Besides being talented in more ways than one, she prides herself on her selection of gowns, which include some of the very latest Parisian creations. Receptions will be held by her after each matinee performance and a cordial invitation is extended to all to meet her personally. Come and have a chat with her. She loves conversation with the members of her audience.

A devoted wife submits to dishonor to save her husband's life. What she does in the powerful photoplay, "Panties," which is to serve as the feature picture for the first three days at the Strand, beginning with matinee today. Miss Norma Talmadge will appear in the title role made famous on the stage by Mme. Olga Petrova. The part offers the talented young star her greatest opportunity for the expression of her abundant powers and, judging from the reports from New York and other large cities where the picture has been shown, Miss Talmadge has made a

BIG-V COMEDY

Talmadge is surrounded by an exceptionally clever and powerful cast.

The added feature photoplay is "Bond of Fear," starring Belle Bennett and Roy Stewart. The desert has a strange way of settling human accounts without resort to written laws. That the great justice of the outdoors holds the scales in "Bond of Fear" is forcibly shown in the spectacular sandstorm which makes this play a notable feature in the season's program of pictorialization.

The educational feature will be "From Studio to Screen," and should attractively prove interesting as well as instructive. The Strand Review of current events promises the same interesting series of views from all parts of the world, while the comedy entitled "The Dentist," by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, is classed as their best effort in this line of entertainment.

The overture to the Strand Symphony orchestra will be "Foot and Peasant," by Suppe, and the selections will be from "High Jinks." The organ offering by Conductor Martel will be "Poor Butterfly," played by general request of the patrons. The soloist for the week will be George Manning.

For the last three days of the week an entire change of program is assured, with Miss Ethel Barrymore in "The Lifted Veil," as the feature photoplay. "The Devil Dodger," with Roy Stewart starring will be the added feature.

LOWELL PEOPLE KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

Theodore Fletcher, 16, and his aunt, Miss Carrie Fletcher, 30, both of this city, were killed last night when their automobile in which they were riding was struck by an express train bound for Boston at a place known as the New State crossing near Littleton. Donald Fletcher, a brother of Theodore, who was operating the car, escaped injury.

The point at which the accident occurred is at the bottom of a slight incline which slopes on both sides and the crossing is guarded only by a

FINAL WEEK OF LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Lowell began her final week of the Liberty bond campaign today with every prospect of reaching her maximum quota—over seven million—if everybody gets busy in the final days of the campaign and does his or her bit in the drive. The campaign will end next Saturday noon and Friday will see the real clean-up of the affair.

Several large subscriptions through Boston banking houses were received this morning by Chairman Jarden of the local committee. These include $1000 through Eastabrook & Co., $1050 through Lee, Higginson & Co., and $2050 through the Boylston National Bank. These sums add $4100 to the city's total.

Of the $2050 credited to Lowell through the Boylston bank $2000 belongs to Billerica which is reporting through Lowell.

Last week it was reported that the $200,000 worth of bonds sold today and a special notification came from Boston that this amount had been credited to Lowell. It has already been included in the grand totals, however.

The Boy Scouts are continuing their campaign this week and from the results secured Saturday it is easy to see that the young soldiers will play an important part in the final drive of the campaign.

The following committee has been appointed to work among the French-American people of the city to stir up interest in the Liberty loan:

J. H. Cullier, chairman; Ernest J. Dupont, Joseph Payette, Oliva Portier, J. A. Garvais, F. X. Rivet, H. G. Gagnon, Gaspard Beaudry, George Houle, Oliva Bergeron, Henri Lepine, Etienne Bayard, Charles E. Barry, Pierre Rousseau, Ralph Palfrey, Etienne Lepine, Frederick Deschenault.

Classifications for Registered Men Under New Regulations Approved By Pres. Wilson

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The five classifications into which men awaiting draft will be divided under the new regulations approved by President Wilson have become public much before the time planned by the provost marshal general's office and are here published.

It was discovered today that what was to have remained an official secret for a week or more was divulged Saturday night at a dinner in New York which Secretary Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder attended. The provost marshal general discussed the new regulations with-out intending to make public the classifications but some members of a New York local exemption board, thinking to elucidate the general's speech, printed the classifications on the back of the menu cards.

Place For Every Registered Man

The classifications are as follows and show every man registered to which class he belongs and in what order the different classifications will be called to service:

Class I—Single men without dependent relatives.

Married man (or widower) with children, who habitually fails to support his family.

Married man dependent on wife for support.

Married man (or widower) with children, not usefully engaged, family supported by income independent of his labor.

Men not included in any other description in the other classes.

Class II—Married man or father of motherless children; usefully engaged but family has sufficient income apart from his daily labor to afford reasonably adequate support during his absence.

Married man—no children—wife can support herself decently and without hardship.

Skilled farm laborer engaged in necessary industrial enterprise.

Skilled industrial laborer engaged in necessary agricultural enterprise.

Class III—Man with foster children dependent on daily labor for support.

Man with aged, infirm or invalid parents or grandparents dependent on daily labor for support.

Man with brothers or sisters incompetent to support themselves, dependent on daily labor for support.

County or municipal officer.

Persons necessary in transmission of mails.

Necessary employees in service of United States.

Highly specialized administrative experts.

Technical or mechanical experts in industrial enterprise.

Highly specialized agricultural experts in agricultural bureau, state or nation.

Assistant or associate manager of necessary industrial enterprise.

Assistant or associate manager of necessary agricultural enterprise.

New Allied Drive in Ypres Russian Fleet Eludes Germans

Russian Warships Escape From Moon Sound—German Transport Sunk—Four Zeppelins and Fifteen German Airplanes Downed—Japanese Steamer With All on Board Lost

In co-operation with the French on his left, Field Marshal Haig launched a new blow along a narrow front at the German lines northeast of Ypres this morning.

The allied infantry moved forward in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Staden railway and on the outskirts of Houtholst wood, on the extreme northern edge of the active front in Flanders.

The French advance was along a width of about three-fifths of a mile. The British attack probably was along a somewhat wider front, extending towards Poperinghe and possibly taking in the area of that town, which has been the scene of some desperate fighting within the last few weeks, the German reactions being extremely persistent here.

The new position of the Russian squadron probably will compel the Germans to give battle if they wish to enter the Gulf of Finland by going through the sound between Dago Island and the coast of Estonia. The military forces in the Moon Sound region were moved successfully by the Russians, who also rescued their transports and smaller craft. Before their retirement they destroyed all positions of military value to the enemy.

Another German Transport Sunk

In addition to the warships and transports already reported sunk by the Russian units, Petrograd reports the sinking of another German transport by a Russian submarine. Two torpedoes were fired by the same submarine at a German dreadnought of the Markgraf type, vessels of 25,000 tons displacement. Being attacked, the submarine was unable to note results. One torpedo detonated and the submarine on rising again saw clouds of smoke.

Six German Machines Downed

British naval airmen who raided German bases in Belgium and conducted scouting operations over the enemy's territory yesterday brought off forced down six German airplanes.

Russian Fleet Eludes Germans

Russian naval units in the northern part of the Gulf of Riga have outwitted the superior German forces and escaped from Moon Sound, where they apparently had been bottled up for the engagement in and about the sound last week.

The Russian warships made their escape without losses and are now protecting the northern entrance to Moon Sound.

British Air Raids in Flanders

In Flanders the artillery activity continues to be violent, while British airmen have been busy raiding German airbases and other military points behind the German lines. Hundreds of bombs have been dropped on the airbases and railway stations at Roulers, Courtrai, Ingelmunster and Gontrode and on German billets.

Nine German Machines Downed

On Sunday, British aviators made a raid into Germany and bombed with excellent results a foundry and railway junction ten miles north of Saarbrücken, northeast of Metz. Nine German machines were downed by the British aviators and four others were driven out of control.

Kaiser Returns to Berlin

Emperor William returns to Berlin today and among his engagements are political conferences with Prince von Buelow and Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the former imperial chancellors. Prince von Buelow has been mentioned as the probable successor of Dr. Michaelis, whose position as chancellor, recent reports from Germany have indicated, is most insecure.

Japanese Steamer Lost

The Japanese steamer Hitaichi Maru, from Yokohama for Liverpool, is three weeks overdue at Liverpool, bay, Portuguese East Africa, and is believed to have struck a mine with the loss of all on board. The steamer carried passengers, the number of which is not known.

It was necessary only to look back on the rapid growth of the little British army, America was now starting and those resources in man power were twice those of Britain.

Mr. Lloyd George said that "Belgium" in all its shapes and forms should be looked out for.

"Beware of people who try to sow dissension, distrust and suspicion," he said. "The enemy is trying to rattle our nerves. Keep steady and we will win."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—It was officially announced today that the American destroyer which had an engagement in the war zone with a German submarine and got to port under her own steam after being damaged, was the U.S.S. Cassin.

The Cassin was torpedoed while on patrol duty on Tuesday, Oct. 16, commander's Mate Osmond Kelly Ingram, of Pratt City, Ala., was killed by being thrown overboard by the explosion and his body was never recovered. Fifty others were injured but not seriously.

PERSHING GIVES LIST OF THOSE LOST ON ANTILLES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Sixty-seven lives were lost when the army transport Antilles went down last Wednesday by the torpedo of a German submarine. The official list of casualties, cabled today by Gen. Pershing, shows 67 lost; total survivors 170, and one unaccounted for.

The casualty list shows that not all the lost were Americans. The fishermen, of whom many were probably killed by the explosion, came principally from Spain and Portugal. Some of the non-commissioned army officers, among the American troops lost, were men of foreign birth. Two of them were German by birth and now have mothers living in Germany, one in Berlin and the other in Oldenburg.

Gen. Pershing's report throws no new light on the circumstances of the attack and so far as is known neither a submarine nor a torpedo was seen. Casualty list follows: Lt. Cummings, emergency address unknown.

Sergeant Otto Kibber, infantry; father, Paul Kibber, Berlin, Germany.

Sergeant Otto Miller, infantry; mother, Mrs. Mary Miller, Nordenheim, Oldenburg, Germany.

Corporal Abraham Schwartzberg, infantry; sister, Theresa Aron, New York City.

BIG DEMOCRATIC RALLY TOMORROW NIGHT

The initial drive in the local end of the democratic campaign for the election of state officials Tuesday, Nov. 6, will be made tomorrow evening in Asa's hall, when Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield, democratic candidate for governor, will be the principal speaker at a rousing rally of the "democrats" of Lowell.

It will be Mr. Mansfield's first public appearance in Lowell since last July, when he was a speaker at the Sacred Heart church picnic in Moore street. Mr. Mansfield will have with him as other speakers: Hon. William Hale, candidate for lieutenant governor; Arthur B. Reed, candidate for state secretary; Humphrey O'Sullivan, candidate for treasurer; Josiah Quincy, candidate for attorney general; Elmer Choquette, candidate for auditor, and Hon. Peter Collins of Boston.

The rally is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock and from all appearances will be the biggest one of this year's state election campaign in Lowell.

VERDICT OF $526 RENDERED IN CASE OF DEMERS VS. TESSIER

The case of Emma Demers vs. August Tessier, executor for the estate of Eugene Ducharme, an action of contract by which the plaintiff sought to recover for services rendered the deceased during his illness, which went to trial at the civil session of the superior court Friday afternoon, was given to the jury this morning at the opening of the session and shortly afterward a verdict of $526, the full amount asked, was rendered.

Later the case of Burroughs and Pessenden vs. the Boston & Maine, which was on trial the greater portion of last week, was given to the jury after arguments had been presented by counsel and the charge delivered by Presiding Justice King.

C. A. SENTER

THE RELIABLE JEWELER

120 Central Street Strand Theatre Building

Thursday, had been for the last three years manager of the municipal lighting plant. He had been ill the last two weeks with pneumonia.

A native of Lowell, Mr. Mitchell was born March 11, 1859. He was the son of George Edward and Elmira (Currier) Mitchell. After attending the schools of his native city he went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and was graduated as a mechanical engineer in 1881. He had a long and varied experience as a draftsman and in construction and electrical work.

At the time Mr. Mitchell took charge of the Springfield municipal lighting plant, almost three years ago, it was in a badly run down condition. He worked hard to get it back on its feet and had just reached a point where the department was quickly secured on a firm financial basis and the improvement work needed to put it in shape well started.

Mr. Mitchell was a member of Alpheus Warren, he was also a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. Besides his wife, who was Miss Gertrude Warren, he leaves one daughter, Rosamund, six years old, and Corinne aged three.

DAVENPORT—Mrs. Alice M. Bonney Davenport, widow of William E. Davenport, died this morning in Worcester, aged 71 years. She leaves three daughters, Mildred L., Madeline E., and Florence M., and seven sons, Roger W., Roland E., Walter E., Chas. G., Otto B., John A., and George S. Davenport, and one brother, William Bonney of Kennebunkport, Me. The body was brought to this city and taken to the chapel of James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

An appeal to the parishioners to subscribe to the Liberty loan was made by preachers at all the masses of the Catholic churches in this city yesterday. The speakers urged their listeners to do their share in helping the government to finance the present war.

At the 7.30 o'clock mass at the Immaculate Conception church yesterday morning the members of the Third Order of St. Francis and the junior branch of the Children of Mary sodality received communion in a body. Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I., the pastor, was the celebrant, and he was assisted in giving out communion by Rev. Owen P. McQuinn, O.M.I. It was announced that the annual parish reunion would be held Wednesday of this week in Associate hall. Next Sunday evening a procession in honor of St. Veronica will be held in connection with the vestal services.

Rev. Francis J. Mullin celebrated the high mass at St. Michael's church yesterday morning and Rev. J. J. Lynch was the preacher. It was announced that the annual parish reunion would be held Wednesday of this week in Associate hall, which was taken up the preceding Sunday, had met with gratifying response.

The members of the Boys' sodality received communion at the 8.30 o'clock mass at St. Peter's church yesterday morning. Rev. Peter Linehan was the celebrant, and he was assisted in giving communion by the pastor, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D. The Married Ladies' sodality received at the 7.30 o'clock mass. Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D. was the celebrant, and he was assisted in giving communion by the pastor, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D. The Married Ladies' sodality received at the 7.30 o'clock mass. Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D. was the celebrant, and he was assisted in giving communion by the pastor, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D.

At the 7 o'clock mass at St. Patrick's church yesterday morning the members of the Holy Family sodality received communion in a body. Rev. William E. Brien, P.R., was the celebrant, and he was assisted in giving communion by the pastor, Rev. James J. Kerrikan. The high mass at St. Patrick's church yesterday morning was celebrated by Rev. William E. Brien, P.R., who was assisted in giving communion by the pastor, Rev. James J. Kerrikan.

At the Sacred Heart church yesterday morning Rev. William F. Mahan, O.M.I., celebrated the high mass, and the preacher was Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I. The members of the Holy Angels' sodality received communion at the 8.30 o'clock mass, which was celebrated by Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I., the pastor. The members of the Holy Rosary sodality will hold a social Thursday evening in the school hall. A rehearsal will be held in the hall on Tuesday evening.

At St. Columba's church it was announced at all the masses yesterday that on next Sunday a special collection would be taken up, the proceeds of which would be used to purchase Liberty bonds. Rev. Francis A. McNeill celebrated the high mass and also preached the sermon. The members of the Married Ladies' sodality received communion at the 7 o'clock mass. Rev. Patrick J. Hally, the pastor, was the celebrant.

The high mass at St. Margaret's church was celebrated yesterday morning by Rev. William H. O'Connell. It was announced that the members of the parish who wish to take part in the knitting guild of the Knights of Columbus would meet this evening in the parish hall.

EDGAR B. BRUNELLE DID NOT PUT IN APPEARANCE FOR WEDDING CEREMONY

The wedding of Edgar B. Brunelle, of 517 Pawtucket street, and Miss Aurora B. Briers, of 778 Merrimack street, which was scheduled to take place at St. Joseph's rectory yesterday afternoon and for which all arrangements had been made, was postponed on account of the sudden and unexpected disappearance of the bridegroom-to-be.

The meeting will be held at 7.30 o'clock.

SEN. HUSTING KILLED HUNTING

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 22.—The body of Paul O. Husting, junior United States senator from Wisconsin, who was killed accidentally yesterday by his brother, Gustav, while duck hunting on Rush lake, near Ripon, was being prepared here today for burial, which probably will be at Mayville, his home.

Mingled with the grief over the senator's tragic death, there is widespread speculation throughout the state concerning his successor. Under the laws of Wisconsin Gov. Phillips, a republican, has the power to fill the vacancy until a successor to Senator Husting, who was a democrat, is elected at a special election, which the governor has the power to call, or a general election.

Senator Husting and his brother were rowing in separate boats when the tragedy occurred, the boat of the former being just ahead. The senator saw a flock of ducks and called to his brother to shoot. Then he suddenly rose from a stooping position, evidently thinking the shot would pass over his head. His brother, aiming at the ducks, pulled the trigger. Senator Husting was in direct line with the shot and the full discharge penetrated his back at close range. The accident happened late in the afternoon, but death did not result until 11 p. m. Part of the time the senator was conscious.

The death of Senator Husting marks the passing of the third member within a year of a group of prominent Wisconsin democrats who were instrumental in carrying this state for President Wilson when he was a candidate for the democratic nomination in 1912.

CHANGE IN HIGH SCHOOL REGIMENT UNIFORMS

The following letter was sent today by Principal Herbert D. Bixby of the high school to James P. Conway, director of the school regiment, in regard to the proposition advanced early in the school year that the uniforms of the boys in the regiment be changed from blue to khaki. Mr. Bixby refuses to sanction the change at present and gives his reasons for his stand in the matter.

October 22, 1917.
Mr. James P. Conway, Director of High School Regiment, Lowell High School, Lowell, Mass.
Dear Sir:

Since the beginning of the school year the subject of uniforming the regiment has been given my most careful consideration. The unsatisfactory condition of the market makes the obtaining of material of suitable kind and quality at a reasonable price a difficult problem. Consequently the satisfactory settlement of this question is, at this time, of more than ordinary difficulty. As you know, considerable interest has been shown in the proposition to change from our blue uniform to one of khaki. Upon consideration of the question in its various aspects it has seemed to me that there are three divisions: (1) changing the present blue to cotton khaki, (2) changing to woolen khaki (3) retaining the blue uniform.

Of these, number one, changing to cotton khaki was decided to be undesirable because of the unsuitability of a cotton uniform for winter wear. I am of the decided opinion that to ask or to allow the members of the regiment to wear such material as cotton khaki in severe winter weather would be extremely unwise and detrimental to their health. As proposed, number two, changing to woolen khaki is attractive, but, at present, impracticable because of three reasons—first, the difficulty of obtaining woolen khaki at this time and second, its high cost—the expense of a private's uniform would be not less than $15, and third, the possibility of objection from the United States government to the regiment's wearing it. This brings us to the conclusion that the third proposition—retaining the blue uniform—is the best by far, for our adoption of great material can be obtained at a reasonable expense. This I find to be possible. A local firm will furnish blue uniforms at the following prices: All wool, lined, blouse at $5.75; cap at $1.37; white duck trousers and leggings to be bought later in the year.

To the objection that the blue cannot be guaranteed the answer is that neither can khaki.

For the above reasons I have decided that there will be no change in the uniform of the regiment for the current year.

In closing I cannot urge too strongly upon members of the regiment the importance of obtaining them immediately—not for the good of the regiment and for their own advantages. The prices quoted are certain to increase at an early date.

Will you kindly bring this letter to the attention of Major Deves and ask him to have read to the regiment?

Very truly yours,
Herbert D. Bixby,
Headmaster Lowell High School.

Liberty Bond Campaign
The Citizens of Foreign Birth or Descendant Liberty Loan committee of Boston last week addressed a letter to Principal Bixby, asking him to take up the matter of appointing a committee of local high school boys to assist in the Liberty bond campaign among the foreign people of the city. This has been done successfully in Boston and other cities, and it was thought that Lowell

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN HAVE WORMS

Their parents do not know it. Symptoms of worms in children are: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pinching of the face, head, and dull, twitching eyes, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. Growth fails as subject to worms also.

The one best remedy is Dr. Trow's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. Good for adults also. Mrs. Curtis, of Houston Texas, believes this and writes that she will be glad to give her friends of the benefits she has received. Get a bottle today at your dealer's, 10c. 50c and $1.00. Write for further information.

would afford an excellent opportunity to do some work because of the cosmopolitan character of its population. The matter was put up to the boys of the school, and the result was that they agreed to do some work for the city in the interest of the loan. As soon as literature is received from Boston the young men will be put to work. It is expected that their efforts will add an appreciable sum to Lowell's final Liberty loan total.

Following are the names of the boys who volunteered: Spyroukos, Constantinos, Eucavakas, James Anastas, George Lavigne, Harold Ragolovsky, Hurve L. Danapan, Theodore Dupuis, Jacob Tiller, George Bernaghis, Nathan Goldman, Theodore Parthenais, Maurice Barbofsky and Stephen P. Toupin.

There was much regret in the school today when it was learned that "Red" Fletcher of the football team had met an untimely death last evening in an automobile accident. Fletcher was one of the most popular students of the school, and both the football team and the school as a whole will be the loser because of his departure. It is probable that the team will take action upon his death.

LIBERTY LOAN DAY IN THE KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ARMY RECREATION CENTERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 22.—That Wednesday, October 24, officially designated by President Wilson as "Liberty Loan Day" may be observed in all the recreation buildings conducted in the army cantonments and encampments by the Knights of Columbus, the representative of the Catholic church in this work. It is the desire of the Knights of Columbus committee on war activities, which maintains national headquarters here, Col. P. W. Callahan, chairman of the committee has issued instructions to all the field secretaries of the organization requesting them to make special preparations for the celebration of this day. The interior of the buildings are to be fittingly decorated and an entertainment program is to be given at which a speaker will call attention to the necessity of the Liberty loan and the men urged, if possible, to invest in Liberty bonds.

"There are many men in the army," said Col. Callahan, "who are able to invest in Liberty bonds, and the Knights of Columbus committee on war activities feels that it can aid the government in no better way than by arousing the interest of the men in these bonds at the recreation centers under our direction. We hope that our Liberty loan day celebration will prove not only entertaining to the men in the camps, but that it will also result in an increase of Liberty loan subscriptions."

Knights of Columbus buildings are proving to be extremely popular among the men, and that these buildings will be located in seventy-five different mobilization centers by November 1, is the desire of the committee on war activities.

LOWELL BOY WITH BRITISH ROYAL FLYING CORPS WRITES TO HIS UNCLE

James Byrnes of 71 Andrews street has received a very interesting letter from his nephew, John Finn, a former Lowell boy, who is now connected with the British Royal Flying Corps stationed at Salonika, Greece. The young man tells of conditions in Greece and makes an appeal for the sending of articles for the soldiers, such as cigarettes, soap, shaving cream, chocolate, biscuits, tooth paste, socks, etc. He tells of two weekly English newspapers, which are being printed for the benefit of the soldiers and states that he is enjoying the best of health.

NOTICE TO SICK WOMEN

Positive Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieves Suffering.

Bridgeport, N.J.—"I cannot speak too highly of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for inflammation and other weaknesses. I was very irregular and would have terrible pains so that I could hardly take a step. Sometimes I would be so miserable that I could not sweep a room. I doctored part of the time but felt no change. I later took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt a change for the better. I took it until I was in good healthy condition. I recommend the Pinkham remedies to all women as I have used them with such good results."—Mrs. MILDRED T. CUMMINGS, 322 Harmony St., Penn's Grove, N. J.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence of the excellence of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy for the distressing ills of women such as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, backache, painful periods, nervousness and kindred ailments.

FANS PLEASED AT POSSIBILITY OF POLO "COME BACK" IN THIS CITY

Many local sports are elated over the possibility of polo being resumed here this season. They look upon the move as one that will prove very popular, if a good team is secured. The fact that Lowell always had a fast team, a real championship outfit, when this city was represented in the polo leagues, local men say, means that unless a good team, one that will hold its end up with all others in the league, is formed this year, the game will not prove successful. No man realizes the wisdom of this claim better than Manner Moore of the Crescent rink, the man who is trying to bring back the game. He says that if a franchise is located here he will go out and get the best men available. Already he has received applications from a large number of players. He plans to select as manager of the team an old time star who has been highly recommended by many well known sporting men. He will give this man complete charge of the team, with authority to hire and fire, and is of the opinion that this plan will assure Lowell of one of the best teams in the league. Already Worcester and Providence have arranged a schedule of games, engaged rinks and made extensive repairs. If Lowell is included in the league, extensive repairs will be made at the Crescent rink, which is looked upon as one of the best in New England for the game of polo.

RED TRIANGLE CAMPAIGN
Otto Hoekmeyer and Robert F. Marden went to Boston this afternoon, to get in touch with officials of the Red Triangle campaign committee in preparation for the coming local campaign in November. This campaign will be held during the week of Nov. 11-15 and will probably be directed by Mr. Hoekmeyer, as he was the guiding hand in the initial effort of the Red Triangle in this city last summer.

FIVE FINE ENTERTAINMENTS IN Y. M. C. A. STAR COURSE

For nearly twenty years the Y.M.C.A. has conducted a course of entertainments and concerts in Lowell. The very best talent is obtained, and this year's program promises to keep up the record. On Oct. 24, the Campanian company of Italian musicians and vocalists will be at the First Baptist church for the first concert. Nov. 28, the American

Girls will give American life in song, story and music; on Dec. 26, the Girls' world Sisters will give a similar program to a regular men's quartet, and on Jan. 28 the Hawkeye Male quartet will entertain. This will be one of the best. On Feb. 27, S. Platt Jones, an Impersonator, will give a "funfest" program that will show great artistic merit.

Course tickets may be obtained at the Y.M.C.A. rooms now, or evening admission for any one of the numbers of the course.

Lemon Juice a Beautifier

How to prepare a beauty cream at little cost. Says lemon juice alone is too highly acid. Try this on face, neck, arms and hands!

Many women use just the juice of lemons to bleach or whiten the skin and to bring out the hidden beauty and the roses, but pure lemon juice is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy or toilet counter and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It should naturally help to bring back to any skin the whiteness, the sweet freshness and flexibility of which it has been robbed by carelessness or trying atmospheric conditions.

GERMAN-BORN PLEDGE LOYALTY TO U. S.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Two thousand men, women and children of German birth and descent, grouped around the Carl Schurz monument in Central park yesterday, reaffirmed their allegiance to the United States and pledged themselves to aid to the end in waging war against "the enemy of liberty and freedom."

The meeting, which began as a Liberty Loan rally, ended as an impressive patriotic demonstration when the throng joined in singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

KERENSKY SAYS RUSSIA WON'T BOW TO FORCE

PETROGRAD, Oct. 22.—Premier Kerensky, on opening the Russian preliminary parliament yesterday in the Marinsky palace, made a ringing speech in which he said:

Russia wants peace by right, but we never will bow our heads to force.

This declaration was warmly applauded by the members of all political factions. The premier, who has just recovered from illness, slightly pale, stood on a raised dais in the great audience hall. His address was largely confined to an explanation of the military situation as to the necessity of saving the country.

INCREASE IN WAGES IN WATER DEPARTMENT

A compromise between the eight machinists employed in the water department and Commissioner Brown, head of the department, has been reached by which the men will receive an increase of 50 cents a day. The men in a recent conference with the commissioner presented their demand for something like $1.25 a day increase and at that time the commissioner offered 25 cents a day. The offer was not accepted, but the workmen informed their superior that they would bring the matter before the union. This morning the commissioner announced that he had granted an increase of 50 cents a day, which went into effect last Monday and that the proposition has been accepted. In commenting on the increase this morning, Mr. Brown said this is the third granted to the machinists since the beginning of the year, making a total of $1 and $1.25 a day increase.

How to Salute Flag
The following reply to a letter recently sent to Major General Butler Ames by Mayor O'Donnell was this morning received in the honor: Hon. James E. O'Donnell.

My Dear Mr. Mayor: In reply to your query as to the proper manner in which a police officer in uniform shall salute the colors as they pass in review, and his attitude while the national anthem is being played, I give the following extract from Infantry Drill Regulations, Paragraphs 764 and 765:

"Whenever the National Anthem is played at any place when persons belonging to the military service are present, all officers and enlisted men in formation shall stand at attention, facing toward the music."

"Officers and enlisted men passing the uncased colors with the colors as follows: If in uniform, they will salute as required."

"Saluting distance is that within which recognition is easy. In general, it does not exceed 30 paces."

Very truly yours,
Butler Ames,
Major General Commanding.

LOCAL CATHOLIC CHARITIES

Interesting Paper by Miss Margaret McCluskey of Centralville

Meeting Catholic Federation of No. Middlesex at St. Patrick's School Hall

Miss Margaret McCluskey, widely known in Lowell as an enthusiastic charitable worker, yesterday afternoon afforded a representative gathering of delegates from the Catholic Federation of the North Middlesex district in St. Patrick's school hall an opportunity for the first time, perhaps, to realize just what Lowell has done and is doing in Catholic charity work. Miss McCluskey's wide and first hand experience as a charity worker herself and her constant and intimate relation with the various Catholic charitable institutions enabled her to give to these present a clear resume of the work in her chosen field.

Miss McCluskey's paper as read yesterday afternoon did not appeal for praise for the work which has been accomplished nor did it delve into grandiose speculations as to what is to be done in the future. It was a clear, logical review of the charitable work of Catholics in Lowell from the early pioneers down to the present, and as such was intended merely to give information in a compact form, it accomplished this mission successfully.

The occasion of the meeting was the annual autumn convention of the delegates from the various branches of the Catholic Federation of North Middlesex district. Rev. Francis J. Mullin, chaplain of the federation, opened the meeting with prayer and after the report of the officers and various committees a banquet was given. President Thomas J. Fitzgerald gave an interesting account of the national convention held in Kansas City, Mo. The election of officers for the coming year was then held and resulted as follows:

President, Thomas J. Fitzgerald; first vice president, Narcisse Gadois; second vice president, J. P. Kierman; third vice president, Miss Katherine Gaffney; fourth vice president, Charles McCarthy of Ayer; secretary, Margaret J. McCluskey; assistant secretary, Mary Wood; financial secretary, Timothy Rohan; press secretary, Joseph L. Cronin; treasurer, John F. Connors; marshal, George Hobden; auditors, Joseph Preston, Charles E. McCarthy and Michael Monahan.

Fr. Mullin urged a large attendance of those present and their friends at a mass meeting to be held in the school hall next Sunday evening at 7:45 under the auspices of the federation. The speakers will be William O'Malley, Esq., of Cambridge, Daniel J. Donohue, Esq., of Lowell and Francis B. Slattery, Esq., of Boston.

Seated on the platform yesterday were the officers of the federation, Rev. Fr. Mullin, the chaplain, Miss McCluskey and Rev. Francis A. McNell of St. Columba's church.

At the close of her address Miss McCluskey was roundly complimented by Hugh J. Molloy, secretary of the school. Mr. Molloy said that the paper should be published as widely as possible and that every charitable organization and society in Lowell should have it read at their meetings. Fr. McNell also complimented Miss McCluskey.

Miss McCluskey's Paper

Miss McCluskey's address was necessarily a lengthy one and it given below in a very condensed form:

In the beginning there was no poverty, but with sin there entered into man's paradise the evils of indigence, poverty, crime, disease, death. In one of the earliest books of the bible we have a picture of Cain standing over the murdered body of Abel. As the Creator calls the murderer to account for his crime he flings back at the Almighty that now familiar query: "Am I my brother's keeper?" a question typical indeed of the ages which followed when the law of even and the character of pagan lands was pitiless hardness and gross immorality. Now and then it is true, we run across a few examples of beneficence in these early days, but we find little if any evidence of that spirit which emanates from the lips of love incarnate was introduced to the world in the parable of the Good Samaritan, the answer to that other world-famous question, "Who is my neighbor?"

Charity is distinctively a Christian virtue. It is the very foundation of Christianity, for on it is built the social ideal of Christian civilization. According to these ideals man's worth is not derived from the majesty of empire, nor from external circumstances of rank and kind, but rather from the incomparable nobility of his being a child of God and a brother of Christ. The lives of the early Christians were shaped according to these ideals and the spontaneous outgrowth of their charity is found in the numerous hospitals, asylums, brotherhoods and sisterhoods, which for centuries have had no reason nor hope but the care of the sick, the poor, the unfortunate. We have grown so accustomed to the benefits we owe to Christianity that we think no more of them than of the air we breathe. God in His goodness bestows on us, yet to the area of faith we owe the origin of hospitals, infirmaries, foundling asylums, homes for the aged. In these early days there were societies devoted to the welfare of slaves, of captives, of strangers. Religion fixed her stations on the tops of mountains and even de-

Must you stop work to scratch?

Resinol

That itching, burning skin-trouble which keeps you scratching and digging, is a source of disgust to others, as well as of torment to you. Why don't you get rid of it by using Resinol Ointment? Physicians have prescribed it for many years. In most cases, it stops itching instantly and heals eruptions promptly. It is very easy and economical to use. Acts even more promptly if aided by Resinol Soap.

Resinol Ointment is so nearly flesh-colored that it can be used on exposed surfaces without attracting attention. It keeps itching and burning from coming back. It comes in two sizes 150c and $1.00, each in a box.

All druggists sell Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. You'd better try them!

FIRE AT CAMP DEVENS

a window and jump out. Private Cadell is a former employee on the local telephone company, and great credit is due him for his work in saving records and the rendering of other valuable assistance.

The medical corps held the fire in check until the arrival of the Camp Devens fire department and the authorities yesterday were loud in their praise of the splendid work of the medical corps members who occupied buildings surrounding the ward that was burned. The men in charge of the medical and surgical wards had all of their patients out and in safety six minutes after the fire started, a most remarkable showing. It was asserted yesterday. And then all hands tackled the fire, the clothing of the fire-fighters consisting in most instances of pajamas and overcoats.

A few thousand draftsmen came double-breasted suits and coats from barracks more than half a mile away, to watch the blaze, which could be seen reflected in the sky in all parts of the camp.

A report that the fire was incendiary and part of a plot against all contingents, which was said to be under investigation by the department of justice, added itself to all the other rumors which have circulated through the camp, but it lacks any confirmation.

The fact that two other slight fires within the last two days, one of them in the 1st, Gen. Harry P. Hodges' office, and the other in the 2nd, Gen. Hodges' office, have both started from oil stoves is what gives division headquarters more concern.

The building burned yesterday, a 150 by 50 foot, one-story frame structure, contained all the uniforms and other clothes of the patients at the hospital, about 250 officers and men from among the 25,000 in camp, and these were lost. The valuables of the men were in a safe at the administration building, only a few yards away, but this building was not even scorched.

In the building were also some office fixtures, a few cots and instruments used in the examination and treatment of ear, eye, nose and throat patients. The loss is not known definitely.

Thirty-five minutes after the alarm was given the blaze was so well in hand that two engines were sent back to stations.

SEEMS EVERYONE HEARD ABOUT IT

All want to try new drug that dries up corns so they lift out.

Good news spreads rapidly and drugists here are kept busy dispensing freezons, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any pharmacy, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

KING AND QUEEN IN BOMBED DISTRICT

LONDON, Oct. 22.—King George and Queen Mary paid a surprise visit yesterday afternoon to one of the bombed districts of London and talked for two hours with the victims. Speaking to a local clergyman, the king said: "I wish people who are against retaliation could see this wreckage."

The Sunday Crowd
There were not so many visitors yesterday as on other Sundays, only 20,000 or 25,000. This was because more than 15,000 draftees had gone home. The thousands who did walk through the cantonment found better roads than before, boulevards in most directions, new buildings and steamers passing the Sabbath trying to get the heating job done.

The 30th Infantry band gave a concert from 2 to 4 o'clock near Post-office square.

The football game, across the road from the cantonment entrance, drew a few thousand people who saw the headquarters troop (rim the 30th Infantry) mauling train 12 to 6. The 50th band played between halves.

About 5000 attended the open-air mass outside the K. of C. building at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning, celebrated by Fr. Morgan of Boston college. Two indoor masses were held by Chaplain Flynn at 5:30 and by Chaplain O'Connor at 8:30. Another K. of C. building will be opened Tuesday at the depot brigade.

There were 27 different services at the Y.M.C.A. huts Sunday forenoon and Sunday night, with the attendance at all running into the thousands. Particularly large were the crowds at the song services at night.

Charles Gill yesterday afternoon drove a truck up to the barracks of his company, Headquarters company, 302d Infantry, laden with jams, preserves, peaches, plums and cranberries. He had come all the way from his home town, Hyannis.

DANGEROUSLY SCALDED WHILE BATHING

Oscar Hookostran and Charles Kartigan, both of whom reside at 180 Lawrence street, were badly scalded at the Bay State mills in Lawrence street Saturday afternoon. They were removed to the Lowell hospital, where it was found they were severely burned about the body and lower limbs.

It is said that it had been the custom at the mills for some of the men on Saturday night to take a hot bath in the big vats there. The two men were among those who were in the habit of doing this and Saturday they entered the vat. The water was running at the time, but suddenly it got so hot that the men were scalded before they could get out of the vat.

Mr. Proctor, manager of the mills, was notified and he had both men sent to the Lowell hospital. Mr. Proctor was at a loss to understand why the water became so suddenly hot, and an investigation will be made to determine the cause if possible.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The members of the Central council of the A.O.U.W. was held in Hibernian hall yesterday afternoon. Vice President McInerney presiding. Owing to the fact that President Kennedy is at Ayer Vice President McInerney was the remainder of the term. It was voted to invest $200 in Liberty bonds, after which the election of John J. Kennedy as vice president took place. A committee was appointed to run a class institution, to take place the second Sunday in December. Remarks were made by Delegates Sullivan, Dorsey, Hickey and Kennedy. It was also decided that a roll of honor of the members now in the service be placed in the rooms.

The municipal council of Hibernian, France, has called upon the chamber of deputies to pass a law requiring children between 12 and 18 to work.

DON'T PAY MORE FOR SUGAR—PRICE IS DUE FOR A FALL

Special to The Sun
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Mr. Sugar Consumer: Do not permit your grocer to charge you more for sugar between now and Dec. 1 than you have been paying on the ground that there is a shortage, and that it is costing him more.

There is a temporary sugar shortage, due to recent heavy exports to France to meet a serious deficiency there. This will be relieved by Dec. 1, however, by the new beet sugar crop and importations from Hawaii. Meanwhile, the sugar you buy will be of the old cane sugar crop which already has recovered from the producer and refiner to the jobber and retailer at prices which should insure its reaching the consumer at about 5 cents a pound.

Any advance will not be simply to increase the middlemen's profit. The food administration asks that consumers, in addition to restricting their consumption of sugar, refuse to pay more than they have been paying for the past 30 days. When the new beet sugar and cane sugar crops come in about Dec. 1, the price should be still lower. The retail price of the new sugar crop should not exceed 8-12 cents.

BULK OF REFINED SUGAR TO GO TO RETAILERS—CUT SUPPLY TO CANDY MAKERS

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—One of the largest local sugar refineries began today converting into the market-product more than seven million pounds of raw sugar received last week. An official of the plant said that candy manufacturers would receive only about one-fourth of their customary allotment and that the bulk of the refined sugar would go to retailers. The entire amount will be available in two weeks.

C. Y. M. L. PLANS WHIST AND DANCE PARTY

An interesting meeting of the members of the C.Y.M.L. was held yesterday in the rooms of the organization in Suffolk street and a feature of the meeting was the formulation of plans for a whist and dance to be conducted in the rooms of the yeoman tomorrow evening, the proceeds of which will go toward swelling the fund of St. Peter's orphanage.

The meeting was presided over by President Patrick A. Grady and reports from the financial secretary and recording secretary were received and accepted. Final arrangements for the whist and dance to be conducted tomorrow evening in the rooms for the benefit of St. Peter's orphanage were completed and it was announced that while whist will be played in the school hall, dancing will be enjoyed to music furnished by Minnie Doyle orchestra in the yeoman quarters. The committee in charge of the event is as follows: William Gilligan, chairman; James H. B. Walsh, secretary; J. Foley, D. Lahey, John Gilligan, Henry Sullivan, J. Plannery, Paul McLaughlin, Charles O'Brien, William Finnick, B. Murray, Clement O'Neil, J. Keefe, J. Kilroy, J. McVey and John McDermott.

The committee has spared no time or effort to make the event a most successful one and inasmuch as this will be the first important gathering of its kind held this season under the auspices of the organization, it is felt that the efforts of the committee will be well repaid, for those who will attend will both enjoy themselves and do a charitable act.

In the course of the meeting it was also voted to conduct a concert and dance in Associate hall Nov. 30 and James H. B. Walsh was elected floor director for the event, other officers to be chosen at a later date. A service welfare committee to look after the welfare of the members of the yeoman, who are serving Uncle Sam either in the army or navy has been appointed, and it was voted to fly a service flag from the rooms of the organization. Rehearsals for the concert will be held every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

STONY BROOK RAILROAD

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Stony Brook railroad was held this forenoon at the office of the Lowell Gas Light Co. and the following were re-elected directors: Alexander G. Cunneen, George S. Motley, Arthur G. Pollard, Edward N. Burke, Harry G. Pollard, Frank E. Dunbar and Frederick A. Plathner. At a meeting of the directors the following officers were elected: Arthur G. Pollard, president; Frank E. Dunbar, treasurer; Arthur P. Atwood, clerk.

STOCK OF RING PLANO CO. SOLD TO THOMAS WARDLE & J. L. CHAFFOUCO CO.

The stock of the Ring Plano Co. in Merrimack street has been sold to Thomas Wardle and the J. L. Chaffouco Co., the former taking over the piano business in Merrimack street and the latter the victrolas. The members of the firm of the Ring Plano Co. have decided to retire from active business and therefore have sold all their interests in their large stock and business. It is reported that Dennis J. Ring, the head of the firm, will remove to California.

BATTALION DRILL

The second battalion drill of the Lowell battalion of the State Guard was held Saturday afternoon at Golden Cove park with Major Walter R. Joyce in command. Present at the drill was Col. Louis S. Cox of Lawrence, commander of the 16th regiment, who reviewed the battalion.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Beginning today and continuing for the entire week, Jack Van and his Musical Comedy company will hold forth at the popular playhouse. Jack Van and his company of Merry-makers have just completed a successful engagement throughout Canada. The bill for the first three days is entitled "The Midnight Frolics," and is a guaranteed cure for the blues.

Mr. Van comes very highly recommended from his successful engagement throughout the Provinces and Canada and the theatregoers of Lowell are promised a real treat in being able to witness the funny antics of this popular comedienne.

Every day there will be a ladies' matinee and the price for any seat in the house will be ten cents. This is not a burlesque show but a high class musical comedy and nothing will be said or done to offend the most fastidious.

MOTORBOAT ASHORE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A small motorboat, the navy department announced yesterday, was driven ashore to a storm off the Atlantic coast Saturday. She was not seriously damaged and none of the crew was injured.

scended into the earth in quest of the world and as deep as its miseries. We in our own little corner of the world have been benefited by the principles, traditions and influences that have come to us from these ages of faith. Our fathers suffered and died that these blessings might come to us intact. Their faith was like adamant, their hope as the promise of the springtime, their charity as broad as the world and as deep as its miseries. Charity then to us is an inheritance from which we cannot get away, even if we would, unless we wish to break entirely from the spirit of the age, the spirit which is the main-spring of our religious life, in which is based our faith and all our hope. It hardly surprises us then to find that the work in Lowell was started almost simultaneously with the establishment of Lowell's first Catholic parish and has gone on quietly but effectively ever since. True, our people are not of the wealthy. Their offerings to be compared with the widow's mite, oftentimes with the Pharisee's munificence but considering the circumstances now and in the past their work is most commendable. Unsystematic and unrecorded much of it has been, yet the workers were satisfied when the poor had the gospel preached to them, the ignorant instructed, the hungry fed, the naked clothed, the sick visited, the orphan rescued. Much of this work is unchronicled—it is known to God alone—but many of us, children of those young in those early days, have heard and ever again heard accounts of the wonderful things accomplished by the pioneer Catholics of our city.

The years bring new faces and new teachers and the names of many who sowed the first seeds therein have by some been forgotten. No doubt it is as they would have wished. Unrecorded here, the story of their noble lives is indelibly traced in the eternal memory of God.

Pioneers in Charity

The charity of the first priests of our city is something the older Catholics love to recall, yet those connected with church work can testify that their successors have followed closely in their footsteps. Now and then little happenings will enlighten us as to what is of almost daily occurrence, but so quietly is the good work done that only those benefited know of it. When we hear of families being fed for months at the pastor's expense, invalids receiving nourishment from the same source, when we accidentally learn of a specialist treating a case at the expense of a young couple, or know of an unfortunate family being watched over by another priest, home, work and means provided for its members, we can conclude that if we learn of these things from many sources, we can safely say, in fact, that now as in the past the priests of our city are devoting a large share of their own means to the wants of the needy.

Headquarters in St. Patrick's Parish

Early in the history of St. Patrick's parish we find a sewing circle established, also a hospital in a room which was a room for the homeless old ladies. It was maintained by the members of the Women's sodality. We find the Sisters of Notre Dame not only teaching in the parish school but keeping the children of working mothers from early morning till night and later giving them temporary care at the convent, thus relieving the mothers of much anxiety. This is a way was Lowell's first day nursery. Nor did the sisters' charity stop here. Many children received clothing from their hands and during severe winters many a well husbanded man saw home. Besides this there seldom passed a day when some poor person did not apply at the convent for help. During one particularly hard winter a special room was reserved for these self-invited guests and some days as many as fourteen partook of the generosity of the good nuns.

And what is true of the Sisters of Notre Dame is true of every convent and rectory in town. The door is never closed to Christ's poor. Often sacrificing themselves, these religious give freely to others, hearing as they do the words of the Master: "Who gives himself with his gift feeds three. Himself, his hungry neighbor, and Me."

The sisters also conducted a society for boys which many of our professional and business men now love to recall. The first Sister Mary Chastity had on the members was very remarkable.

Space allows but brief mention of the St. Vincent de Paul's society, under Rev. Michael O'Brien, which in one year dispensed $3179 worth of goods, made 927 visits, placed 34 children and supported entirely four others.

St. Rev. Mgr. O'Brien's Work

Under Rt. Rev. Mgr. O'Brien the Ladies' Aid society was established and for years it has been doing excellent work. One year's report shows us 200 families assisted, $730 spent for groceries, $188 for materials for clothing, $48 for rent, hospitals and sundries. Besides that their assistance was rendered in various ways. Children placed, wayward girls looked after, the old made comfortable. Many interesting things might be told of the work these ladies did if time and space permitted.

St. Patrick's Home for Working Girls was in a way the closing chapter in the volume of good works performed by the late Rev. Michael O'Brien. Its rooms are always filled with the very girls it is designed to accommodate, those working in schools, factories, offices, etc. As far as its capacity allows it welcomes girls of every race and creed. Here they find a home in every sense of the word.

For the social welfare of the young men, St. Patrick's parish has its Young Men's League.

St. Peter's Orphanage

One of the oldest of our charitable institutions and one in which Catholics of every parish are interested is St. Peter's Orphanage founded by Rev. Peter Crutchen in the early days of St. Peter's parish. The Sisters taking charge of this also, for a time conducted an evening school and besides visited the poor and sick of the parish, bringing much relief. St. Peter's Orphanage was intended for girls only, but in the new building a department has been opened for boys. For those who remember the old building on Appleton street it is a surprise to find the new building so much more comfortable and so much more modern. It has many memories of the generosity of the good people of the parish and city and of the munificent charity of the pastor, the late Rev. Michael O'Brien.

In St. Peter's Orphanage is sheltered the neglected child, the child taken from a vicious surroundings, or from dissipated parents, or the child by divine decree left parentless; all receive the loving care of the Sisters who consider it a privilege to rear these little ones for God. Here the girls are taught sewing, embroidery, etc., also trained in household ways; the boys are taught to read and help in the work in their own department. Besides in the schoolroom the regular diocesan schedule is followed as far as possible. Typewriting is taught, also music and where a child has talent, piano lessons are given. Naturally the needs of St. Peter's will grow with the city's growth. It is hoped that the generosity of Lowell's Catholics will ever stand behind the good Sisters who with limited means, try to do so much for unfortunate childhood.

St. John's Hospital

St. John's hospital is another unendowed institution, which for years has been doing excellent work in Lowell. Since its opening fifty years ago it has cared for 22,956 persons. In its out-patient department 72,029 persons have been treated. In this latter department treatment has been given gratuitously. As far as its finances have permitted St. John's has kept pace with the times and with the modern demands of medicine and surgery. There is much more the Sisters would like to do and hope to do in the future. Let us hope their hopes may be realized in the charity of those who, leaving the world and its goods behind, may perpetuate their own good deeds in clearing the way for the good Sisters who devote their entire existence to the alleviation of suffering and distress.

Connected with St. John's hospital is a society of women known as the Ladies of Charity. The work of these ladies is well known. The assistance rendered by St. John's hospital society for men is also much appreciated.

French Orphanage

The French Catholic Orphanage is an institution which speaks loudly of the open-hearted generosity of our Brethren in the faith. It is a splendid institution, providing a real home for its inmates. Since its opening the interest of the French people in it has never lessened. In all the parishes of the city there have been or are societies doing relief work among the poor. Such of this is done in a very quiet way. Where there is at present no organized body, the pastor takes charge of the work and is assisted by the other priests of the parish. In this way each parish distributes about $1000 a year besides very much that is given of which no account is kept.

St. Michael's Guild

St. Michael's Guild, organized in the early nineties as a society, later reorganized by Rev. Francis Sullivan under the direction of Rev. J. J. Shaw, has been active in the care of neglected children. Many of these have been clothed, others they have placed in homes, some they have literally taken from the streets and made of them successful women. As in the other parishes most of the work has been done in such a way that often even those who have made the doing possible by their generosity have not known just who were being benefited.

K. of C. Guild

The K. of C. Guild, though young in years, is an organization doing much noble work through its agents, the Klerran. It is devoted to the care of children of every nationality who have been brought to Lowell. It is the agent's duty to visit the homes of these children. Oftentimes she has to remove the children and find better protection for them; she has to, at times, provide clothing and medical treatment. The agent has to present all any one person can attend to in just this one branch of work. There is much more that might be done, there means to provide the workers,

With the hearty co-operation the knights hope to receive, there is vast field of usefulness awaiting the guild in the future.

Immaculate Conception Parish

While both priests and people are very active along charitable lines, especially in their interest in our charitable institutions, the social welfare work of the Immaculate Conception parish has always been very prominent. Its Y.M.C.I. has been a flourishing organization for years, while the C.M.I. Cadets is an organization of young boys of which all Catholics of Lowell feel proud. Here the chaplain, Rev. Dennis Sullivan, endeavors to bring together boys of all ages, classes and temperaments and with judicious training, mingled with discipline, mould them into loyal Catholic soldiers of Christ.

Besides the societies mentioned, we have St. Elizabeth's guild, connected with the orphanage, and the various fraternal organizations among our non-English speaking Catholics. Many of these expend from $500 to $1000 a year.

The Lowell Irish Benevolent society was a flourishing organization for years and active in every charitable work for asylums or hospitals. The A.O.H. and Catholic Order of Foresters do much charity work besides being mutually helpful to members. It is very evident that in a paper such as this one can do little more than give the merest outline of the work that has been and is being done by the Catholics all through the city. And as yet nothing has been said of the charity of individual Catholics of every parish, generous to a fault, often depriving themselves of real necessities to help a friend. Those who give money or service to God's poor are doing a noble work and God will not be less generous to them than they are to His children.

Charity of the Poor

Charity is a beautiful virtue no matter where or by whom practiced but the charity of the poor to each other is even more than this—it is nothing short of sublime. As our beloved cardinal has so well expressed it, the poverty of some people is infinitely more beautiful than the greater wealth of others, and for some of these others "the greatest benefit that could come to them would be the loss of the riches which have concealed their blind and frozen their hearts."

There is an old Roman coin which, coming from the mint of the popes, bears this inscription—"That it may feed those in hunger." Is it not a direct appeal to the charity of its possessor and would it not be well in our own day were such a coin in circulation, and if it should now and then fall into the hands of those to whom money is everything and the good of others nothing at all?

We cannot with truth, however, say that ours is an age without charity for there never was a time, perhaps, when there were more movements on foot for the betterment of the human race. Yet, an outgrowth of charity though they may be, some of those activities have grown so far from the parent root as to have lost many of its most essential characteristics. A vast difference there must always be between philanthropy and charity. A relief given may be as real in one case as in another, but the spirit is indeed very different.

MISREPRESENTING LOWELL

Ground has been broken for a $50,000 club house on the shores of Robbins pond, just outside of Camp Devens. This is one of two club houses planned to be built without delay. It is a good undertaking of course, but in view of support of these projects we regret to note a tendency to represent the neighboring cities as reeking with drunkenness and vice.

In literature sent out from the camp a military official is quoted as saying that "if recreation is not provided near the cantonment the men will drift as they are now drifting into nearby cities where vice and liquor abound."

On the face of it that seems a very reasonable statement, but as most of the soldiers come to Lowell and as certain newspapers have seriously misrepresented conditions here, such statements are taken to refer to Lowell more than to any other city. In this way the reputation of our city for the absence of vice and for strict enforcement of the liquor law is being practically ruined.

Yet there has been no evidence to support any such charges so far as Lowell is concerned; but still the sensation mongers continue to spread the untruthful reports. We are strongly in favor of the recreation clubs at the cantonment, but we cannot approve the policy of urging contributions to the community fund by representing conditions in neighboring cities, which refers mainly to Lowell, as very bad or very dangerous, when in reality no city in the country is more free from vice and in no other city in the state are the liquor laws so rigidly enforced.

HAVE YOU BOUGHT A BOND?

Every young American who has volunteered, or has been chosen for the national army, is making a sacrifice for the sacred cause of democracy and country. He is giving some of the best years of his life, his job, his profession, his business, so liberty may not perish from the face of the earth.

Now—the question for us who remain at home to put to ourselves is: can we make any sacrifice at all comparable? Of course, we cannot. Even if we do not have as much coal as usual, even if we do not eat as hearty a meal, even if we pay more taxes—all these things are as nothing to what the soldier boy is giving.

On his behalf, so that the war may be quickly won, the government is asking all of us to buy Liberty bonds. If we merely invest of our surplus in these splendid securities we cannot lay any patriotic unction to our souls.

The point is, how many of us are going to buy so heavily that we will have to economize and pinch until it hurts? Only when we have done this can we say that we have supported the government loan like good patriotic Americans.

That is about the only kind of sacrifice most of us will be called upon to make and even that does not deserve the term "sacrifice," because we are really only enriching ourselves. We save thus more than we might otherwise have done and we escape the Prussian indemnity gatherer.

THE MUNICIPAL MILKMAN

New York and Chicago are threatened with milk famines, milk investigations and milk prosecutions. Also, they are paying more—much more—for their milk than they ever paid before.

In New York the consumer is held up for from 14 to 16 cents a quart. The milk distributors laid the blame on the producers. The president of the dairymen's league replied: "The average price paid dairy farmers for milk is 6 1/2 cents a quart, and dairy farmers are paying double the amount for feed they paid two or three years ago."

He had the books to prove his assertion.

Clearly the distributing system is at fault. The city milkman is making too big a profit, or he is doing his work in an inefficient manner. Probably the latter more than the former is true, excepting with the very large distributing concerns. A dozen different milkmen drive their wagons along the street early in the morning, passing and repassing over each others' footprints, duplicating trips in and out of yards, wasting time, energy and money. There are two solutions: Monopoly properly controlled or the municipal milk distribution which would be a difficult job for any city. Under the present system, many young children will suffer for lack of proper nourishment.

THE LOSS OF THE TRANSPORT

The loss of the U. S. transport "Antilles" on her homeward trip from France shows that in spite of the most vigilant convoy of war vessels the big transports are liable to be struck by the submarines occasionally. In the present case, it appears that the torpedo was so stealthily launched that there was no possible defense.

The fact that the steamer has a big smoke stack of the old fashioned type that sends out volumes of black smoke may have notified the submarines of her approach—so that one or perhaps several submarines were lined up in her path. Many steamers that have been sent to the bottom, in all probability could have escaped

Some people are always ready to admit that they are right.

When a man can't foot his bill, he ought not to foot the bill collector.

Any man or woman who falls in love at first sight will do well to take a second look.

When a man boasts that he is self-made, it is fair to assume that he regards himself as a success.

Sometimes a man's business would be better if he should be confined to the house with a long illness and his wife should take hold and run it.

If a woman could change her dress as quickly as she can change her mind, there wouldn't be so many husbands.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have bad taste in your mouth—a lax, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

Sometimes callers come in and waste a busy man's time; so that when he gets his work done at last it is too late for him to call on other busy men and waste their time.

When you forget to tell the elevator man that you want to get off at the third floor, if you blame him for it sufficiently when the elevator has reached the fourteenth story perhaps he will remember to let you off at the third floor going down.

No Peanuts For the Enemy

There is a vendor of peanuts in Plymouth county who can rightfully claim to be up-to-date and who needs no advice from Mr. Hoover in doing his bit while the scenery is being mused up along the western battle front.

His latent expression of patriotism consists of placing a printed slip in each bag of peanuts reading as follows:

"It is understood and agreed that these peanuts are sold with the understanding that they are not to be exported except to Great Britain, a British possession, France or Russia, or to a European neutral country, by way of the United Kingdom, or to a non-European country."

It is very serious about it. "None of my stuff will reach the Kaiser or his trenches; not if I know it," he says, "I can't fight but I can set folks right about giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

It May Be Cheaper Some Day

"The man at the grocery store told her flatly that two pounds of sugar was the limit; she couldn't buy more than that."

"But how can I make grape conserve with two pounds of sugar?" she demanded.

"Lady, ask the guy higher up," he answered. "Corner groceries cut no chase with Hoover or the sugar trust."

The little mother took it, but instead of sending out details of one to buy more sugar in two-pound lots she told her troubles to Mrs. B. Fortunately the latter had an ample store of sugar having put in 10 pounds when no restriction were imposed.

"I'll loan you five pounds," she suggested.

CAN'T FIND DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears after one or two applications of Danderine rubbed well into the scalp with the finger tips. Get a small bottle of Danderine at any drug store for a few cents and save your hair. After several applications you can't find a particle of dandruff or any falling hair, and the scalp will never itch.

GAS, HEARTBURN, INDIGESTION OR A SICK STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" Relieves Stomach Distress in Five Minutes

Time! Pape's Diapepsin will sweeten a sour, gassy or acid-stomach within five minutes.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is usually a sign of acidity of the stomach.

Get from your pharmacist a fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, nausea, debilitating headaches or dizziness. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors. Pape's Diapepsin helps to neutralize the excessive acid in the stomach which is causing the food fermentation and preventing proper digestion.

Relief in five minutes is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large fifty-cent cases contain enough "Pape's Diapepsin" to usually keep the entire family free from stomach acidity and its symptoms of indigestion, dyspepsia, sourness, gases, heartburn and headache, for many months. It belongs in your home.

Which explains why men insist on 6 per cent.

The High Cost of Eating

"The ink is still at work," he remarked as he tackled dinner before him on the lunch counter. The lunchman shot him a questioning glance.

"No, not here, but somewhere in Lowell," remarked the customer.

"What's the idea?" asked the lunchman as he leaned back against the icebox.

"What are you getting for ham sandwiches now?"

"Why, five cents. What did you think?"

"Well, you're in the minority then. There's places in town where they are getting 10 cents now."

"Pretty fat!"

"Sure it is, when you think of the knife-edge thickness of the ham and the several hundreds of sandwiches that one boned ham will make, to say nothing of the small slice and a thin bread cut that are the fashion nowadays. They'll be charging 10 cents for coffee yet and raking off eight cents profit on a cup. Why don't you stop?"

"Well, you don't see my custom changing much, do you?"

"No."

"They know I don't jump prices until there's a reason, that's all."

In October

It's hard to start a fire when there's no coal in the bin. It's hard to keep old shivers off Jack Frost from coming in. It's hard to warm the sitting room. Or bake a loaf of bread when you haven't got a fire. Or you have to stay abed.

But old John D's a genius. He's helped us all out some. We don't need to start the furnace. Though we see that winter's come. Though the coal bin may be empty. There's a way to be serene. Get out the old oil heater. And buy some kerosene.

for 20 years and then came to this city. His first employment here was with G. and D. Bradt, bakers, and then he had a brief experience in the milk business. In 1871 he became one of the organizers of the Thorne-dike Mfg. Co. of this city. This firm made elastic webs and suspenders. He was also a trustee of the Lowell Cemetery association, a director of the Lawrence Hosiery Co. and a director of the Erie Telephone Co. For almost 50 years he was a member of the Pentucket lodge of Masons.

In church life the adjective "prominent" certainly fits the career of Mr. Russell. He first became associated with the Grace Street Free Baptist church and for many years he served untrillingly in the work of this church. Later he attended the Elliot Congregational church and became identified with the work of the Lowell Congregational club. He was for some time president of the latter organization. He was president of the Y.M.C.A. from 1876 to 1879 and was a member of the association for half a century. Last January he gave $15,000 to the institution in memory of his wife.

Not only in Lowell but in other parts of New England Mr. Russell has given quietly to struggling churches and charitable institutions.

Mr. Russell was married May 25, 1866, to Mary Emma Parker, daughter of Joseph Parker of Lisbon, N. H. They lived to celebrate their golden wedding in 1916. Mrs. Russell died soon after, however, June 21, 1915.

Mr. Russell is survived by two sons, Clinton P. and Lester A., who live in Dallas, Tex., and who arrived in Lowell before his death, two daughters, Miss Edith E. Russell, who had been his companion at home, and Mabelle

M. wife of Capt. John Mather, U.S.A., coast artillery, now at Fortress Monroe, Va. He also leaves one sister, Mrs. Cordella N. Folsom of Leconia, N. H.

ST. JOSEPH'S PARISH
ANNUAL PILGRIMAGE

Ideal weather, a street parade, a large attendance, impressive services at St. Joseph's church and St. Joseph's cemetery, and a forenoon sermon delivered by Rev. Louis Bachand, O.M.I., at the grave of Rev. A. M. Garin, O.M.I., marked the annual pilgrimage of the members of St. Joseph's parish under the auspices of the C.M.A.C. yesterday. It is estimated that between 3000 and 10,000 men, women and children took part in the devotional exercises for the day, which were held on the highest knoll in the cemetery.

The members of the C.M.A.C. and local auxiliary organizations gathered at the rooms of the organization in Pawtucket street in the early afternoon and formed in line. Headed by the Lowell band, and the line moved through Merrimack, Kirk and Lee streets and into St. Joseph's church. Isidore Trudel, a former president of the society acted as chairman and under his direction the formation of the parade and the march were made without the slightest obstruction.

At St. Joseph's church, which was filled to the doors, a Libera was chanted for the repose of the souls of the deceased members of the society by the chaplain and pastor, Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I., special hymns being sung by the church choir under the direction of Telephore Malo, Miss Lena B. Camire presiding at the organ. At the close of the service special exercises were held and the vestments of people were conveyed to the corner of Gurnham and Centre streets, where the line was again formed. Then the line moved through the cemetery, where final exercises were held.

The exercises, which were conducted at the grave of the late Rev. Louis Bachand, O.M.I., in which he urged those present to make frequent visits to the cemetery for the purpose of praying for their departed relatives and friends.

A Libera was chanted and the multitude went to the grave of the late Louis Cossette, first captain of Garde d'Honneur which became affiliated with the C.M.A.C. where tears were shed and the valley hymn was sung. The committee consisted of Trudel, chairman; Hector McDonald, secretary; Raoul Pelletier, George Simard, Joseph Tremblay and President J. A. Fortier, ex-officio.

LOWELL PEOPLE KILLED

sufficient force to cause instant death. He received a large gash in his forehead which extended around the side of the head.

Miss Fletcher was also hurled to the ground and she lived but a short time. Donald escaped injury, but how he was so fortunate is not known even by himself, for after being hurled through space he knew nothing more until he was picked up.

When the engine crashed into the automobile the latter tank in the latter exploded and immediately the machine was a mass of flames and soon nothing but the wreckage of the auto was left.

Theodore Fletcher was the son of Edwin L. and Edith H. Fletcher of 21 Lowell high school, where he was well known in football circles. He played Saturday with the team. For the past four years, he had been a consistent and faithful worker on the grilling squad and his work this year was enough to merit his receipt of the coveted letter. Catherine Fletcher was the sister of Mr. Fletcher and is also well known in the city.

Automobile Burned
The machine was struck full on the side by the locomotive and was thrown 125 feet down the tracks, landing upright on the outboard rails, with Donald Fletcher still sitting in the wheel, apparently uninjured. A moment later and it burst into flames and was quickly consumed. Donald Fletcher again making his escape unhurt.

Miss Fletcher's body was close by where the car landed, but the body of her nephew farther away. There were no marks on his body. Chief of Police Deasy of Ayer, Thomas F. Mullen, a court officer there, and Judge Alphonse of Ayer rushed in an ambulance to the scene of the accident and had the bodies of the victims removed to an undertaking establishment there.

Donald Fletcher was taken by Joe McKeegan of Lowell with "Pat Keegan," the former bicycle rider, in the latter automobile to his home in Lowell. It was learned that yesterday morning the Fletcher party brought back to Ayer Miss Marion Farnsworth, daughter of C. L. Farnsworth of Washington street, Ayer, who had been visiting them. Fletcher went to Ayer to claim the bodies. With him was Dr. C. E. Simpson of the state board of health.

Did Not See Train
Donald Fletcher said that he did not see the train and knew nothing was wrong until he heard his brother cry out. He remembers nothing more until he came to sitting upright in the car as the flames burst from it.

The crossing where the accident took place was used by thousands of automobiles yesterday who went to Camp Devens. The road strikes the tracks at a little less than a right angle, and there is apparently nothing to obstruct the view of the tracks from the road.

There have been a number of accidents at this crossing, and for some time the plan for having something done to make conditions safer has been agitated.

Miss Fletcher Orphan
Miss Carrie Fletcher, who was killed, was 30 years old and an orphan. She made her home with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Howells at 381 Nichols street. She was the aunt of Theodore Fletcher, the other victim of the accident. He was 16 years old and the son of E. L. Fletcher of 31 Holyrood avenue.

Donald E. Fletcher, the driver of the car, is also a son of E. L. Fletcher and a nephew of the dead woman.

JOSHUA DAVIS KILLED
BY AUTOMOBILE

Joshua P. Davis, residing in the Tyngsboro road near Tyngs Island, was struck by an automobile owned and operated by Francis X. Henry of Concord, N. H., almost directly in front of his home about 4.15 o'clock Saturday afternoon and sustained injuries which resulted in his death at the Lowell Corporation hospital about two hours later.

Mr. Davis had accompanied his son from his home to an electric car and was returning to the house when the automobile which was traveling northward struck and knocked him down. Mr. Henry placed Mr. Davis in his automobile and rushed to the home of Dr. F. E. Varney in North Chelmsford and removed him to the Lowell Corporation hospital, but all efforts to save the man's life proved fruitless, and he died at 8.30 o'clock.

The body was removed to the rooms of Undertaker George W. Healey. Mr. Davis was a well known man in North Chelmsford, where he had resided for some time. He was a Civil war veteran and was 55 years of age. He was also a member of the Grand Lodge of the A. F. & A. M. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Ellen M. Davis; four daughters, Miss M. Elizabeth Davis, Mrs. Mary E. Toole, Mrs. A. A. Farnsworth and Mrs. A. K. Herbert, and two sons, Henry E. and Charles J. Davis.

SEVEN MEN INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Seven Haverhill men were injured last night when the automobile in which they were riding struck a street car rail on the road between Lawrence and Lowell and turned turtle. Two of them, Sam Goltz and Louis Burenbaum, were taken to St. John's hospital. Holtz suffering from a fracture of the right arm and Burenbaum with minor bruises.

Those taken to the General Hospital in Lawrence were Samuel Seidberg of 4 Freeman street, Haverhill; Max Vincoeur of 50 E. Main street, Haverhill; Morris Sagaroff of 3 Observatory avenue, Haverhill; Samuel Traiman of 38 Ayer street, Haverhill and Samuel Sussman of 141 Washington street, Haverhill. Seidberg had a fracture of the right arm, Vincoeur had a broken rib, and the other three were bruised and shaken.

Louis Burenbaum, the owner and operator of the car which turned over, lives at 43 Wilson street, Haverhill.

HIT BY ELECTRIC CAR
Victor Fratus and Joseph Rosa were removed to St. John's hospital at 8.30 o'clock last night after the accident and died in which they were riding was struck by an electric car in Dutton street. Rosa received a fracture of the right leg and Fratus received lacerations of the left leg.

"In spite of very misty weather a further attack into Germany was carried out by our airplanes this afternoon. A highway and railway junction ten miles north of Saarbrueck were bombed with over a ton of bombs. Very good results were observed. Hursts were seen on the country and the station where a big building complex was located. Many hostile scouts attacked the bombing squadron, over 100 in all. They were driven off and our objectives, and many of our own troops, out of control. We took photographs. All our machines returned safely, except one.

artillery. During the day we carried out bombing operations vigorously. A total of 235 bombs were dropped on enemy's airbases at Gontrode and on the German communications station and on the German headquarters. The enemy's hostile billets and buildings were also bombed. The German bomber airbase at Houters was bombed from a low height. One bomb was seen to fall and blow to pieces a German machine on the ground, while another fell through the centre of a hangar. The enemy's personnel and machines on the ground were then attacked with machine guns and incendiary planes. During this bombing attack our aircraft operated in the neighborhood brought down seven German machines, which crashed in full view of their airdrome.

Four Zeppelins Lost
AMSTERDAM, Oct. 22.—The loss of four Zeppelins is admitted in an official statement received here from Berlin. A first-hand account of the statement says: "At London, Manchester, Birmingham, Nottingham, Derby, Lowestoft, Hull, Grimsby and Norwich, England, with 'special success.'"
The statement reads:
On the night of Oct. 19-20 a naval ship squadron under Capt. Baron Busch von Butler-Bradefens attacked with special success, London, Manchester, Birmingham, Nottingham, Derby, Lowestoft, Hull, Grimsby, Norwich and Maastricht (Middleton). On so wind and dense mist, four airplanes under Captains Stabbert, Coolidge and Schwander, passed over the territory where, according to reports they were forced to land or be shot down.

No details regarding the fate of the two are available."
